NFL PREVIEW

AFC EAST

With Patriots QB Tom Brady's attempt to avoid serving a Deflategate suspension having been rejected by an appeals court in mid-July, QB Jimmy Garoppolo will be under center for the first four games of 2016. TE Martellus Bennett adds another dimension to New England's prolific passing game, but the defense will need to fill the pass-rushing void created by the off-season trade of DE Chandler Jones to Arizona . . . The Jets have RBs Matt Forte and Khiry Robinson to open up opportunities for WRs Eric Decker and Brandon Marshall. The hope is that it will be still-unsigned QB Ryan Fitzpatrick throwing to them, because the alternative is QB Geno Smith . . . The Bills have taken steps to move the franchise toward its first playoff appearance since 1999. If RB LeSean McCoy and WR Sammy Watkins can stay on the field, the offense should be productive. Rob Ryan joins his brother's coaching staff to help shore up the defense and provide comedy for the masses . . . The Dolphins' offseason was filled with twists and turns, as they lost DE Olivier Vernon and RB Lamar Miller but picked up DE Mario Williams, CB Byron Maxwell and LB Kiko Alonso. OT Laremy Tunsil will need to be immediately effective as a rookie if QB Ryan Tannehill is planning on staying upright.

AFC NORTH

With All-Pros C Maurkice Pouncey and RB Le'Veon Bell returning to the lineup from injury, Pittsburgh's offense could end up being the best in the NFL this season. Pair that with a defense featuring DEs Cameron Heyward and Stephon Tuitt—and several shiny new draft picks—and the Steelers appear, on paper, to be among the teams to beat in the AFC's . . . The Bengals' season ended in ugly fashion against Pittsburgh in the playoffs last year. The addition of LB Karlos Dansby is expected to provide maturity and veteran leadership to a fiery defense that desperately needed it. The offense will need to overcome the loss of coordinator Hue Jackson, who left to become Cleveland's head coach . . . The Ravens were absolutely decimated by injuries last season, and they'll rely primarily on key players returning to the field to right the ship. Free-agency additions should help too, as WR Mike Wallace will stretch the field for QB Joe Flacco and S Eric Weddle will strengthen the secondary. Eight draft picks from the first four rounds add depth and upside to the roster . . . The signing of QB Robert Griffin III means that things will at least be interesting in Cleveland this year. The Browns will be bad again, but a promising draft class and new head coach could finally point the team in the right direction.

AFC SOUTH

The Texans' offense will be vastly improved if QB Brock Osweiler and RB Lamar Miller live up to their new contracts, and first-round pick WR Will Fuller is able to make an immediate impact. A solid defensive unit will continue to be led by three-time NFL Defensive Player of the Year J.J. Watt, who tends to rack up big numbers against inferior competition while disappearing in big spots . . . The Colts' main objective will be to keep QB Andrew Luck upright and healthy. First-round pick C Ryan Kelly will start immediately, and half of the two-deep o-line depth chart could be rookies. Indianapolis fired defensive coordinator Greg Manusky in January and hired Ted Monachino, who had been the Ravens' linebackers coach since 2010, to replace him . . . The Jaguars appear to be in a position to make strides in 2016. QB Blake Bortles has a lot at his disposal with WRs Allen Robinson and Allen Hurns as big-play threats. Meanwhile, RBs Chris Ivory and TJ Yeldon should be a formidable one-two punch in the backfield. Free agents DT Malik Jackson and CB Prince Amukamara upgrade their respective positions, and fifth overall pick CB Jalen Ramsey further strengthens the secondary . . . Head coach Mike Mularkey is fully committed to centering his offense around a smashmouth running game, which was reflected by the Titans' offseason moves. RBs DeMarco Murray and rookie Derrick Henry will share the workload behind a revamped offensive line.

AFC WEST

The time for the Raiders to return to the playoffs may finally be here. QB Derek Carr had a breakout year in his sophomore season, and his offensive line and receiving corps are improving right alongside him. LB Khalil Mack has become one of the NFL's best defensive players, leading a pass-rushing unit that's young and versatile. Additions in the defensive backfield, including CB Sean Smith and S Reggie Nelson, give Oakland one of the most well-rounded defenses in the league . . . The defense was a disaster in San Diego last season, but things should improve despite the departure of S Eric Weddle. Third overall pick DE Joey Bosa will bring heat off the edge, and free agent CB Casey Heyward will help lock things down opposite CB Jason Verrett. Offensive coordinator Ken Whisenhunt is back in town, which has to make QB Philip Rivers happy—the last time Whisenhunt was OC, in 2013, he had one of his best seasons . . . With neither Peyton Manning nor understudy Brock Osweiler on the roster, it looks as if QB Mark Sanchez is the Broncos' man at QB in 2016. Although there's less concern about the team's formidable defense now that LB Von Miller's contract situation has been resolved, the loss of DE Malik Jackson will be felt . . . The Chiefs' biggest off-season accomplishment was re-signing their defensive stars, a group that includes S Eric Berry and LB Tamba Hali. The one who got away was CB Sean Smith, and his absence will put additional pressure on second-year CB Marcus Peters. Kansas City's offensive line was bad last year, which is what prompted the team to overpay for OT Mitchell Schwartz.

NFC EAST

The Giants invested serious money in their defense in free agency, and their star-studded lineup reflects it. DE Olivier Vernon and DT Damon Harrison significantly strengthen the defensive line, and CB Janoris Jenkins should represent an upgrade over oft-injured CB Prince Amukamara. New head coach Ben McAdoo was successful as offensive coordinator, so there's no reason QB Eli Manning shouldn't continue being as productive as always . . .

Coming off a division title, the Redskins made a splash in free agency when they signed CB Josh Norman to immediately improve a defense that ranked 28th in yards allowed last season. If QB Kirk Cousins is as good as the franchise tag says he is, Washington will be a contender in the East . . . Fourth overall draft pick RB Ezekiel Elliott has both the talent and the offensive line to emerge as one of the league's leading rushers this season. With QB Tony Romo back on the field, the Cowboys' offense should be substantially better this season than it was in 2015 . . . Although the Eagles gave up a lot to get QB Carson Wentz with the draft's second overall pick, QB Sam Bradford is likely to start the season under center. They were able to unload several Chip Kelly signings, including RB DeMarco Murray, LB Kiko Alonso and CB Byron Maxwell, but Philadelphia didn't get much immediate help in return.

NFC NORTH

The biggest addition to the Packers lineup will be a player who was already on the roster, WR Jordy Nelson. Back from injury, QB Aaron Rodgers' favorite target gives the Green Bay offense a chance to return to its glory days of 2014. DT Mike Daniels is a force up front, and if defensive coordinator Dom Capers can get LB Clay Matthews more involved in the pass rush, the Packers will be better for it . . . Minnesota has elite players at all levels of its defense, with DT Linval Joseph, LB Anthony Barr and S Harrison Smith each leading solid units. Although first-round selection WR Laquon Treadwell should emerge as QB Teddy Bridgewater's favorite target, new o-line acquisitions G Alex Boone and T Andre Smith both appear to be past their primes . . . WR Calvin Johnson's retirement leaves a gaping hole that the Lions somehow seem to think can be filled by former Bengal WR Marvin Jones. Incoming linemen OT Taylor Decker and G Geoff Schwartz help fortify the line while DE Ezekiel Ansah and CB Darius Slay are the lone standouts on a defense that has plenty of room for improvement . . . Chicago's o-line is bad and the Bears have little talent at running back, so WR Alshon Jeffery avoiding injuries and playing a full season is the team's best shot at having success on offense. OLB Pernell McPhee will be the centerpiece of the team's new 3-4 scheme.

NFC SOUTH

Other than departed CB Josh Norman and retired DE Jared Allen, the gang's back together in Carolina for a run at a second straight NFC title. Carolina is talented on every part of the roster, including the defensive backfield after the team drafted three corners to help replace Norman. LB Luke Kuechly is a perennial candidate for NFL Defensive Player of the Year honors . . . The signing of C Alex Mack will provide a significant boost to Atlanta's offensive line, and superstar WR Julio Jones seems primed for another strong season after having led the NFL with 1,871 receiving yards last season. That should mean good things for both QB Matt Ryan and RBs Devonta Freeman and Tevin Coleman. CB Desmond Trufant is one of the NFL's most underrated corners, but the team did little this offseason to improve its feeble pass rush . . . QB Jameis Winston was impressive as a rookie, and he reportedly worked himself into significantly better physical shape during the offseason. RB Doug Martin and WR Mike Evans are great complements at skill positions, but the offensive line is still weak. Things aren't much better along the defensive front despite the signing of DE Robert Ayers . . . The Saints signed DT Nick Fairley and LBs James Laurinaitis and Craig Robertson to bolster a woeful defense, but it may be first-round draft pick DT Sheldon Rankins who makes the biggest impact. QB Drew Brees loses TE Ben Watson and WR Marques Colston, but picks up TE Coby Fleener and still has WR Brandin Cooks as his go-to guy.

NFC WEST

Big names like QB Russell Wilson, CB Richard Sherman and S Earl Thomas deservedly hog the headlines, but that leaves some of the Seahawks' other studs criminally underrated. In particular, WR Doug Baldwin and LB K.J. Wright are due for a turn in the spotlight. The big question here is the offensive line. Now that T Russell Okung's gone, it might be the worst in the league . . . Trading for DE Chandler Jones and drafting DT Robert Nkemdiche has made the Cardinals' defense suddenly quite scary. If CB Tyrann Mathieu is back fully healthy, Arizona will be outstanding on this side of the ball. The offense should again be one of the NFL's best, as QB Carson Palmer, an elite group of receivers and a solid line form a well-rounded outfit . . . DT Aaron Donald is one of the most dominant in the game at any position, and the Rams' defensive line as a whole is one of the NFL's best. They gave up a lot of assets to draft QB Jared Goff, and it shows on an offensive depth chart that's thin everywhere except running back. Second-year RB Todd Gurley is already a star, and he still has plenty of potential to fulfill . . . It's truly difficult to find bright spots on the 49ers roster, but if anyone can resurrect the glory days of QB Colin Kaepernick, it could very well end up being new head coach Chip Kelly. Otherwise, QB Blaine Gabbert will likely take the reins under center. RB Carlos Hyde has shown flashes of brilliance when healthy, but the receiving corps might be the NFL's worst.

THE TOP 25

1. ALABAMA

As has become the tradition in Tuscaloosa, the defending national champs enter the season with a roster that many consider to be the nation's most talented. Despite losing four second-round picks to the NFL, the Crimson Tide defense looks to be equally as dominant this year, as a bevy of former five-star recruits will compete to join the likes of DE Jonathan Allen and S Eddie Jackson in the starting lineup. On offense, WR Calvin Ridley and LT Cam Robinson are among the best in the nation at their positions, and the Tide hope sophomore RBs Bo Scarbrough and Damien Harris can fill the void created by Heisman Trophy winner Derrick Henry's departure.

2. OKLAHOMA

Reigning Big 12 Player of the Year QB Baker Mayfield returns for his junior season to once again lead Oklahoma, and anything but a second consecutive trip to the playoffs will be a disappointment. Mayfield has plenty of help right next to him in the backfield, as RBs Samaje Perine and Joe Mixon combined to rush for more than 2,000 yards last season. Three returning starters on the line should be enough to give them the little daylight they need. The Sooners lose their best pass rushers from last year, but a strong secondary will hold things together if newcomers along the front seven can step up. A September 17 home game against Ohio State will go a long way to determining Oklahoma's fortunes.

3. LSU

The Tigers return all but five starters from a 2015 squad that started 7-0. The fast start, however, was against mostly inferior competition; LSU was favored in all seven of those games, and by an average of more than 17 points. They began November by being outscored 99-47 over three straight SEC losses. QB Brandon Harris and his 105th-ranked passing offense will need to improve to take pressure off Heisman hopeful RB Leonard Fournette. LSU catches a break on the schedule by getting both Ole Miss and Alabama at home.

4. CLEMSON

QB Deshaun Watson enters the 2016 season as the favorite to win the Heisman Trophy, and Clemson will need another spectacular season from the junior if it wants to get back to the national title game. The offense gets a boost from the return of WR Mike Williams, who suffered a fracture in his neck after colliding with the goal post padding on the Tigers' first drive of the 2015 season. In 2014, Williams had set a team record for receiving yards by a sophomore (1,030). There are more questions on the defensive side of the ball, where the Tigers will need to replace star pass rushers Shaq Lawson and Kevin Dodd as well as the biggest names in their secondary. And although the secondary lost starters Mackensie Alexander, T.J. Green and Jayron Kearse to the NFL, senior CB Cordrea Tankersley returns as the leader in the defensive backfield.

5. FLORIDA STATE

Dalvin Cook, one of the nation's best backs, will run behind a talented offensive line that returns everyone from last season. Less certain is the quarterback position, as well as the effect of significant losses from the linebacking and secondary units. A schedule bookended by SEC powers Ole Miss and Florida ranks among the nation's most challenging.

6. MICHIGAN

Jim Harbaugh's inaugural season at the helm was mostly what Michigan fans had been hoping for, and things are looking even better heading into 2016. Do-everything LB Jabrill Peppers leads a unit that ranked fourth in the nation in total defense last year. If Harbaugh can find a quarterback to competently direct an otherwise-experienced offense, a Big Ten title and playoff appearance are within reach. Standing in the way are road games at Michigan State and Ohio State.

7. NOTRE DAME

The Irish made it to a New Year's Day game last season without some of their best players, and now they welcome RB Tarean Folston and DT Jarron Jones back into the lineup. They'll need them, as the departures of stars WR Will Fuller and LB Jaylon Smith create voids that will be tough to fill. Notre Dame does return a pair of top-tier QBs in Deshone Kizer and Malik Zaire — most college teams don't have a single quarterback as good as either one.

8. USC

The perpetually talented Trojans are once again loaded, especially at the skill positions. The big name is WR Juju Smith-Schuster, and a supporting cast of athletic receivers and backs should make life easy for QB Max Browne. Well, maybe not that easy — USC is looking down the barrel of the hardest schedule in the country. The Trojans start with Alabama and end with Oregon, Washington, UCLA and Notre Dame.

9. OLE MISS

Charged with protecting QB Chad Kelly, the best signal-caller Oxford has seen since Eli Manning, the five new starters across the Ole Miss offensive line aren't entering a pressure-free situation. They need to hold steady for Kelly to develop new rapport with playmakers (of which there are plenty) after WR Laquon Treadwell took his All-American talent to the pros.

10. TENNESSEE

Is this the year Butch Jones' Tennessee team finally breaks through to reestablish itself as an elite program? Many think so. Dual-threat QB Joshua Dobbs and powerful RB Jalen Hurd form a talented backfield, while DE Derek Barnett is relentless off the edge for the defense. If Tennessee can win the types of close games it lost to Oklahoma and Alabama last season, the team could find itself in the hunt for a national playoff berth.

11. GEORGIA

For the first time in 15 years, Georgia will be without Mark Richt as its head coach. His replacement is no slouch, though—after 10 years at Alabama, Kirby Smart knows what it takes to win in the SEC. If RB Nick Chubb is back to full health after having suffered a season-ending knee injury last year, he'll be on the shortlist for All-American status. If not, the offense could sputter. But with Smart at the helm, a defense that ranked eighth in points against in 2015 (16.9) is likely to be stout once again.

12. UCLA

QB Josh Rosen was about as good as anyone could expect a freshman quarterback to be last season, displaying signs of a star in the making. If he experiences a sophomore slump, it may be because UCLA will be replacing starting RB Paul Perkins and its two leading wideouts. Also challenging for a young quarterback will be out-of-conference trips to Texas A&M and BYU. The Bruins do, however, avoid two of three Pac-12 North favorites in Oregon and Washington, and they get Stanford at home.

13. TCU

All-American QB Trevone Boykin is gone. So are RB Aaron Greene, WR Josh Doctson and four starting offensive linemen. But the line still returns 44 career starts, the receiving unit is deep and transfer QB Kenny Hill showed at Texas A&M that he can be electric in the right circumstances. Combine that with a young, hungry defense that came into its own in the second half of 2015, and the Horned Frogs are once again a threat to win the Big 12.

14. OHIO STATE

Perhaps the best testament to Urban Meyer's program-building ability is the fact that his Buckeyes are a threat to win the Big Ten even in rebuilding years. While "rebuild" is too strong of a word to describe this roster, losing 10 top-100 picks to the NFL Draft results in a sizable depletion in talent for any team. But as long as QB J.T. Barrett is around (and no longer at risk of losing his job), Ohio State will be favored over most opponents.

15. WASHINGTON

Leading the charge of Washington's emergence as a Pac-12 title contender are two true sophomores: QB Jake Browning and RB Myles Gaskin. The former finished last season with six straight 200-yard passing performances, while the latter rushed for 1,300 yards on the season. On the other side of the ball, stud DBs Budda Baker and Sidney Jones headline a unit that returns eight starters and led the Pac-12 in scoring defense at 18.8 PPG.

16. STANFORD

RB Christian McCaffrey racked up 3,864 yards last season to break Barry Sanders' all-time single-season record. It's hard to imagine him one-upping himself statistically, so perhaps a playoff appearance would be the best-possible encore. Stanford has the talent to do it, although a young defensive front and a brutal road schedule will make it a formidable challenge.

17. LOUISVILLE

QB Lamar Jackson is one of the nation's most electrifying players, which he showed by running for 226 yards and throwing for 227 more in last year's Music City Bowl. The Cardinals' defense is led by First Team All-ACC ILB Keith Kelsey and OLB Devonte Fields, who led ACC linebackers with 11 sacks last season. Their decisions to return for their senior seasons give this defense a significant boost.

18. MICHIGAN STATE

The departure of QB Connor Cook marks the end of an era for Michigan State, as the Spartans now turn to fifth-year senior QB Tyler O'Connor to replace the program's all-time leading passer. The focal point of the offense, however, is expected to be RB L.J. Scott, who rushed for 11 TDs as a freshman. The team's strength is its defense, as the unit was 11th in run defense last season and returns 10 of its top 12 contributors in the secondary.

19. OKLAHOMA STATE

Expect Mike Gundy's team to throw the ball often this season, as the Cowboys bring back QB Mason Rudolph and the Big 12's leading returning receiver in WR James Washington on an offense that averaged 39.5 PPG. LB Jordan Burton and S Jordan Stern will lead a defense that returns seven starters but needs to find a way to replace the production of DE Emmanuel Ogbah. Tough games against Baylor, TCU and Oklahoma are all on the road.

20. OREGON

Dynamic RB Royce Freeman is among college football's best, and he'll be the primary weapon for QB Dakota Prukop, the Ducks' second straight FCS graduate transfer under center. But Oregon's real questions are on defense. Incoming DC Brady Hoke will try to rebuild a group that gave up 37.5 PPG and must replace seven of its eight leading tacklers among the front seven.

21. IOWA

Iowa's defense finished 22nd nationally in total defense in 2015 (341 YPG), and eight starters come back to once again wreak havoc on Big Ten offenses. CB Desmond King and his eight interceptions helped the team finish 11th in the country in turnover margin (+0.79), and that type of ballhawking will be key if the Hawkeyes are to continue winning in close games.

22. BAYLOR

It's anyone's guess how Baylor will respond as a team in the aftermath of the scandal that saw head coach Art Briles fired and the loss of several recruits. But an offense that remains in good hands with QB Seth Russell and RBs Shock Linwood and Johnny Jefferson should once again be among the best in the country.

23. HOUSTON

Tom Herman delivered in his first season as a head coach, leading the Cougars to 13 wins, including a bowl victory over Florida State. Whether that success can be repeated rides largely on the arm and legs of QB Greg Ward Jr., who passed for 2,828 yards and 17 TDs, and ran for 1,253 and 21. A Week 1 tilt against Oklahoma will indicate just how far Houston can go.

24. NORTH CAROLINA

New starting QB Mitch Trubinsky should be fine with such weapons as RB Elijah Hood and WRs Mack Hollins and Ryan Switzer at his disposal. If a porous run defense can catch up to a pass defense that's one of the ACC's best, UNC will be the team to beat in the conference's Coastal division.

25. TEXAS A&M

All-American DE Myles Garrett combined with DE Daeshon Hall for 19.5 sacks last year, and safeties Justin Evans and Armani Watts also form a formidable duo. But can ex-Oklahoma QB Trevor Knight right the ship on offense after the embarrassing transfers of both QBs Kyler Murray and Kyle Allen? That question will be at least partially answered by Sept. 3, when the Aggies host UCLA.

AAC

CINCINNATI

Offense: Starters returning - 4; Defense: Starters returning - 8

The Bearcats look to rebound from a disappointing 7-6 record last season after having gone 9-4 in both 2013 and 2014. While the team has QB Gunner Kiel returning for his senior year, the Bearcats brought in Miami Dolphins interim coordinator Zac Taylor to run the offense. Linebackers coach Jeff Koonz and line coach Robert Prunty will serve as co-coordinators of the defense after the departure of Steve Clinkscale to Kentucky.

CONNECTICUT

Offense: Starters returning - 10; Defense: Starters returning - 6

UConn has an ability to win games with its defense, which allowed an average of fewer than 20 points per game last season. The other side of the ball is a complete disaster, as the Huskies ranked 124th in the country in total offense. If the offense can improve with having 10 returning starters, UConn could find its way to another bowl game this season.

EAST CAROLINA

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 5

The Pirates found themselves a new head coach this offseason, hiring former Duke offensive coordinator Scottie Montgomery. His first order of business is to balance the discrepancy between the pass (35th in nation) and run game (112th in nation). Tennessee transfer RB Derrell Scott is expected to be the guy to get the run game going for East Carolina.

HOUSTON

Offense: Starters returning - 5; Defense: Starters returning - 6

Houston went 13-1 in Tom Herman's first year as head coach and won the Chick-fil-A Bowl against Florida State. The Cougars will have the services of a pair of talented transfers in former Texas RB Duke Catalon and former Oklahoma WR Ra'Shaad Samples. Expect QB Greg Ward Jr. to build on an impressive '15 season in which he threw 17 TD passes and rushed for 21 more.

MEMPHIS

Offense: Starters returning - 5; Defense: Starters returning - 7

With head coach Justin Fuente having left to coach Virginia Tech, Mike Norvell takes over the coaching duties and adopts a team that lost its starting QB to the draft. Tennessee transfer Riley Ferguson is expected to beat out Brady Davis and Jason Stewart for the starting quarterback job.

NAVY

Offense: Starters returning - 2; Defense: Starters returning - 6

Last year was a record-setting one for Navy QB Keenan Reynolds, who departed after having set the mark for all-time FBS touchdowns. Navy enters this season with only one threat in WR Jamir Tilman (983 yds) on offense. A winning season is likely but certainly not guaranteed.

PREDICTED FINISH

EASTERN DIVISION	WESTERN DIVISION
1. South Florida	1. Houston
2. Temple	2. Tulsa
3. East Carolina	3. Navy
4. Connecticut	4. SMU
5. Cincinnati	5. Memphis
6. UCF	6. Tulane

SMU

Offense: Starters returning - 9; Defense: Starters returning - 7

Chad Morris' first year as head coach didn't go very well as SMU struggled to a 2-10 record. The team does return nine offensive players to a power spread scheme and has the ability to be explosive. Improvement for the Mustangs will depend on a defense that ranked 119th last season.

SOUTH FLORIDA

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 7

The Bulls could end up being the team to beat in the AAC East. Their offense runs though RB Marlon Mack, who was one of the nation's top-20 rushers last season. If new defensive coordinator Raymond Woodle can get his unit to improve, South Florida could turn out to be a real sleeper this season.

TEMPLE

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 6

The defending AAC Eastern Division champion Owls look to build on an impressive 10-4 season. Returning senior QB P.J. Walker (19 TD, 8 INT) has the potential to take another step forward after a stellar 2015, and he will have the help of junior RB Jahad Thomas (1,262 rush yds). Their 19 returning seniors will give them a significant amount of experience.

TULANE

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 8

New head coach Willie Fritz brings his run-dominant offense to a Tulane team that goes into the season with a solid corps of running backs. Major questions remain at quarterback, where there is a significant lack of experience. This should be a building year for the Green Wave.

TULSA

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 7

The strength of this team should be an offense that ranked 15th in FBS last season and ultimately led the Golden Hurricane to a bowl appearance. QB Dane Evans (4,332 passing yds, 25 TD) returns, as does his top receiver, Josh Atkinson (76 rec, 1,071 yds, 5 TD). If Tulsa is to make a run at an AAC East crown, things will need to drastically improve on a defense that ranked 126th in FBS last season.

UCF

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 8

The Knights could not have had a worse season last year, as their 0-12 record included a loss to an FCS team. With former Oregon offensive coordinator Scott Frost taking over as head coach, UCF will go from a pro-style offense to the fast-paced, no-huddle spread with which Oregon has enjoyed success in recent seasons. Frost brought in Erik Chinander, who had been linebackers coach at Oregon, to run a 3-4 scheme as defensive coordinator.

ACC

BOSTON COLLEGE

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 7

Boston College is coming off a season in which it had the nation's top-ranked defense but third-worst offense. The hope is that new offensive coordinator Scot Loeffler, who most recently held the same position at Virginia Tech, can lead a revamped attack with RB Jon Hilliman having recovered from a foot injury and QB Patrick Towles having arrived as a graduate transfer from Kentucky.

CLEMSON

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 4

QB Deshaun Watson enters 2016 as the favorite to win the Heisman Trophy, and Clemson will need another spectacular season from the junior if it wants to get back to the national title game. While the defense returns only four starters, the offense gets a boost from the return of WR Mike Williams.

DUKE

Offense: Starters returning - 5; Defense: Starters returning - 6

Fifth-year senior QB Thomas Sirk is expected to be ready for the start of the season despite having torn his left Achilles tendon in February. The defense will have to replace All-American safety Jeremy Cash, who is now a Carolina Panther after been the centerpiece of the Blue Devils' 3-3-5 defense.

FLORIDA STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 11; Defense: Starters returning - 6

Dalvin Cook, one of the nation's best backs, will run behind a talented offensive line that returns everyone from last season. Less certain is the quarterback position, as well as the effect of significant losses from the linebacking and secondary units.

GEORGIA TECH

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 5

The Yellow Jackets look to bounce back after a disappointing season in which their streak of 18 consecutive bowl appearances came to an end. The team's success will hinge on the ability of senior QB Justin Thomas to bounce back behind what should be a quality offensive line.

LOUISVILLE

Offense: Starters returning - 10; Defense: Starters returning - 8

QB Lamar Jackson is one of the nation's most electrifying players, which he showed by running for 226 yards and throwing for 227 more in last year's Music City Bowl. The defense is led by First Team All-ACC ILB Keith Kelsey and OLB Devonte Fields.

MIAMI FLORIDA

Offense: Starters returning - 10; Defense: Starters returning - 6

The Hurricanes have a new head coach with Mark Richt having arrived from Georgia. QB Brad Kaaya (16 TD, 5 INT) is back to lead an offense that has 10 starters returning.

PREDICTED FINISH

ATLANTIC DIVISION	COASTAL DIVISION
1. Clemson	1. North Carolina
2. Florida State	2. Miami
3. Louisville	3. Pittsburgh
4. NC State	4. Virginia Tech
5. Boston College	5. Duke
6. Syracuse	6. Georgia Tech
7. Wake Forest	7. Virginia

NORTH CAROLINA

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 7

New starting QB Mitch Trubisky will be tasked with taking over for Marquise Williams, who threw for more than 3,000 yards in each of his last two seasons at UNC. The defense needs to improve in its second season under coordinator Gene Chizik after utterly embarrassing itself by allowing a bowl-record 645 rushing yards in a loss to an undermanned Baylor squad.

NORTH CAROLINA STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 8

Sophomore Jalen McClendon is expected to be the team's new starting quarterback after having spent the past two years as Jacoby Brissett's understudy. Redshirt freshman Jakobi Myers is a highly touted dual-threat QB recruit whom head coach Dave Doeren says could still claim the job.

PITTSBURGH

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 7

Pat Narduzzi enters his second season at head coach with senior QB Nathan Peterman. RB James Conner said in May that he is cancer-free, six months after he was diagnosed with Hodgkin's lymphoma.

SYRACUSE

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 7

While new head coach Dino Babers is known for running an offensive system that's all about tempo, quarterback development and the passing game, his offenses at Bowling Green also had elite running games. Expect a breakthrough season for versatile sophomore RB Dontae Strickland.

VIRGINIA

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 6

New head coach Bronco Mendenhall brought in former East Carolina coach Ruffin McNeill to be his assistant. Transfer QB Kurt Benkert had earned the starting job for McNeill's final season at ECU but suffered a season-ending right knee injury in the preseason.

VIRGINIA TECH

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 8

New head coach Justin Fuente brings the high-powered offensive approach he used at Memphis, but it remains to be seen whether Brenden Motley or Jerod Evans will begin the season as the starting QB. Bud Foster, now in his 29th season at Virginia Tech, remains as the defensive coordinator.

WAKE FOREST

Offense: Starters returning - 9; Defense: Starters returning - 7

Wake Forest's 2016 will depend largely on how much the offensive line is able to improve. Although it will feature four returning starters, it's from a unit that was arguably the worst in FBS in 2014, and only marginally better last season. Redshirt junior TE Cam Serigne is the team's best player.

BAYLOR

Offense: Starters returning - 5; Defense: Starters returning - 5

The Baylor program has been immersed in controversy stemming from an independent investigation that uncovered sexual assault allegations. The fallout was head coach Art Briles being dismissed and Jim Grobe named interim head coach. It's anyone's guess how Baylor will respond as a team in the aftermath, especially with the team having lost several recruits. But an offense that remains in good hands with QB Seth Russell and RBs Shock Linwood and Johnny Jefferson should once again be among the best in the country.

IOWA STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 8

Matt Campbell takes over for Paul Rhoads as head coach after having held the same position at Toledo. His man under center is QB Joel Lanning, who took over the job midway through last season, earning starts in Iowa State's final five games. RB Mike Warren and WR Allen Lazard could be among the best at their positions in the Big 12. The Cyclones also return nine starters on defense, a key in a league with so many high-scoring offenses.

KANSAS

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 7

Second-year head coach David Beaty is still looking for his first victory in Kansas after the team went winless last season. The pass defense might be a strength with S Fish Smithson and CB Brandon Stewart returning, and anything better than a last-place finish in the conference would be considered a successful season in Lawrence.

KANSAS STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 5; Defense: Starters returning - 7

After a disappointing 6-7 season that was marred by injuries, Kansas State will have the services of both of its top two quarterbacks — Jesse Ertz and Alex Delton were lost for the year last season with knee injuries before the start of conference play. Look for fifth-year senior S Dante Barnett to lead the Wildcats defense in 2016.

OKLAHOMA

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 6

Reigning Big 12 Player of the Year QB Baker Mayfield returns for his junior season to once again lead Oklahoma, and anything but a second consecutive trip to the playoffs will be a disappointment. Mayfield has plenty of help right next to him in the backfield, as RBs Samaje Perine and Joe Mixon combined to rush for more than 2,000 yards last season. Three returning starters on the line should be enough to give them the little daylight they need. The Sooners lose their best pass rushers, but a strong secondary will hold things together if newcomers along the front seven can step up.

OKLAHOMA STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 9; Defense: Starters returning - 7

Expect Mike Gundy's team to throw the ball often this season, as the Cowboys bring back QB Mason Rudolph and the Big 12's leading returning receiver in WR James Washington on an offense that averaged 39.5 PPG. LB Jordan Burton and S Jordan Stern will lead a defense that returns seven starters but needs to find a way to replace the production of DE Emmanuel Ogbah. While the Cowboys have the talent to compete for the top spot in the conference, they're not helped by the fact that tough games against Baylor, TCU and Oklahoma are all on the road.

TCU

Offense: Starters returning - 3; Defense: Starters returning - 7

All-American QB Trevone Boykin is gone. So are RB Aaron Greene, WR Josh Doctson and four starting offensive linemen. But the line still returns 44 career starts, the receiving unit is deep and transfer QB Kenny Hill showed at Texas A&M that he can be electric in the right circumstances. Combine that with a young, hungry defense that came into its own in the second half of 2015, and the Horned Frogs are once again a threat to win the Big 12.

TEXAS

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 7

With this being a make-or-break season for head coach Charlie Strong, Texas brought in new offensive coordinator Sterlin Gilbert from Baylor to try and jump-start a unit that ranked 83rd in FBS in scoring last season. The expectation is that it will be true freshman QB Shane Buechele who begins the season at the controls of what should be a high-paced offense. The defense will also need to improve dramatically after a season in which it ranked 106th in total defense, 111th against the run and 73rd against the pass.

TEXAS TECH

Offense: Starters returning - 5; Defense: Starters returning - 7

Texas Tech managed to win only seven games last season despite the fact that QB Patrick Mahomes threw for 4,652 yards and 36 touchdowns while running for another 10 scores. That was because of a defense that ranked 124th in points allowed (43.6 ppg) and was the only FBS team to give up more than 7,000 yards in 2015.

WEST VIRGINIA

Offense: Starters returning - 9; Defense: Starters returning - 4

West Virginia returns nearly its entire offense back from last year with nine starters returning. The passing attack will again be led by junior QB Skyler Howard, who threw for 3,145 yards last season. The defense is a different story, as only four starters return. The Mountaineers' most pressing need for new blood is at linebacker, where none of last year's starters return.

BIG TEN

PREDICTED FINISH

EASTERN DIVISION	WESTERN DIVISION
1. Michigan	1. Iowa
2. Ohio State	2. Nebraska
3. Michigan State	3. Minnesota
4. Indiana	4. Northwestern
5. Maryland	5. Wisconsin
6. Penn State	6. Illinois
7. Rutgers	7. Purdue

ILLINOIS

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 5
Illinois has a new man in charge in former NFL Coach of the Year, Lovie Smith. QB Wes Lunt returns, but WR Mike Dudek will miss a second consecutive season after having torn the ACL in his right knee in April.

INDIANA

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 4
Head coach Kevin Wilson will have his work cut out for him to get to a second straight bowl game after having lost both QB Nate Sudfeld and RB Jordan Howard. The key to Indiana's season will hinge on whether new defensive coordinator Tom Allen can turn things around on that side of the ball.

IOWA

Offense: Starters returning - 5; Defense: Starters returning - 8
QB C.J. Beathard returns, as do eight starters on an Iowa defense that ranked 22nd in FBS in 2015 (341 YPG). That includes CB Desmond King, whose eight INTs helped the team finish 11th in FBS in turnover margin (+0.79).

MARYLAND

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 5
New coach DJ Durkin hired three assistants who led FBS programs in 2015: Syracuse's Scott Shafer (defensive coordinator), Virginia's Mike London (defensive line) and Ball State's Pete Lembo (special teams/tight ends).

MICHIGAN

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 6
Jim Harbaugh's inaugural season at the helm was mostly what Michigan fans had been hoping for. Do-everything LB Jabrill Peppers leads a unit that ranked fourth in the nation in total defense last year. If Harbaugh can find a quarterback to competently direct an otherwise-experienced offense, a Big Ten title and playoff appearance seem to be well within reach.

MICHIGAN STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 4; Defense: Starters returning - 6
The departure of QB Connor Cook marks the end of an era for Michigan State, as the Spartans now turn to fifth-year senior QB Tyler O'Connor to replace the program's all-time leading passer. The focal point of the offense, however, is expected to be RB L.J. Scott, who rushed for 11 TDs as a freshman. The team's strength is its defense, as the unit was 11th in run defense last season and returns 10 of its top 12 contributors in the secondary.

MINNESOTA

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 6
The Golden Gophers have high hopes with QB Mitch Leidner and the RB duo of Rodney Smith and Shannon Brooks all returning. A favorable schedule could lead to Minnesota surprising some people in the Big Ten West.

NEBRASKA

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 7
Nebraska went 6-7 in Mike Riley's first season as head coach. A minus-12 turnover margin was largely to blame for six losses by eight points or less. The offense is in good hands with QB Tommy Armstrong Jr. under center.

NORTHWESTERN

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 5
Coming off a 10-3 season, the Wildcats are likely to no longer be overlooked. RB Justin Jackson (1,418 yds) is the leading returning rusher in the Big Ten. The junior already ranks sixth in school history in rushing yards.

OHIO STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 3; Defense: Starters returning - 3
Perhaps the best testament to Urban Meyer's program-building ability is the fact that his Buckeyes are a threat to win the Big Ten even in rebuilding years. While "rebuild" is too strong of a word to describe this roster, losing 10 top-100 picks to the NFL Draft results in a sizable depletion in talent for any team. But as long as QB J.T. Barrett is around (and no longer at risk of losing his job), Ohio State will be favored over most opponents.

PENN STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 9; Defense: Starters returning - 5
The Nittany Lions are still feeling the effects of the sanctions placed on them. Redshirt sophomore QB Trace McSorley is the favorite to replace Christian Hackenberg, who left for the NFL.

PURDUE

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 8
The Boilermakers had yet another disappointing season in 2015, winning only two games. If head coach Darrell Hazell's 16 returning seniors aren't able to turn around the team's fortunes, this will very likely be Hazell's final season—he has won only six games in three seasons at Purdue.

RUTGERS

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 7
Rutgers will have a completely new look in 2016, as Chris Ash takes over as head coach. The major question heading into the season is how well the offense will transition into the power spread.

WISCONSIN

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 7
The Badgers will have to find a replacement at QB and find a way to get their running game back after having ranked 95th in FBS in rushing in 2015. Wisconsin will have a tough schedule that includes LSU, Michigan State, Michigan and Ohio State, which could ultimately prevent the team from competing for the top spot in the Big Ten West.

CONFERENCE USA

CHARLOTTE

Offense: Starters returning - 9; Defense: Starters returning - 8
Charlotte had a tough first season in FBS in 2015, ending the year on a 10-game losing streak during which they had only one win against the spread. The team will try to overcome uncertainty at quarterback with a running game led by senior RB Kalif Phillips, who earned second-team all-conference honors despite missing the final three games with a knee injury.

FLORIDA ATLANTIC

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 6
The strength of FAU will be a defense that should be one of Conference USA's best this season. The unit is led by DE Trey Hendrickson, who led the conference and ranked second nationally with 13.5 sacks last season. The Owls will have a new offensive coordinator for 2016 with Travis Trickett, son of Florida State's Rick Trickett, taking over the play-calling duties.

FLORIDA INTERNATIONAL

Offense: Starters returning - 9; Defense: Starters returning - 5
The Panthers have improved in each of the last two seasons under head coach Ron Turner, winning four games in 2014 and five a year ago. FIU will have a veteran offense with nine returning starters in 2016, including QB Alex McGough, who threw 21 TD passes in 2015.

LOUISIANA TECH

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 3
With Louisiana Tech having lost both QB Jeff Driskel and RB Kenneth Dixon to the NFL Draft, the team's offense will need to reload a season after it ranked 19th in FBS in total yards per game. On defense, eight new starters will be in the lineup when the Bulldogs open the season.

MARSHALL

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 5
Marshall comes into 2016 having won 10 or more games in three straight seasons, but it has just a single Conference USA crown to show for it. Although QB Chase Litton returns after having thrown 23 TD passes as a freshman, the Thundering Herd must replace last year's top two receivers.

MIDDLE TENNESSEE

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 5
QB Brent Stockstill, son of head coach Rick Stockstill, returns after having thrown for more than 4,000 yards as a freshman and becoming MTSU's all-time leader in 300-yard passing games (with eight) in just one season. The team's weakness is at safety and linebacker, where no starters return.

PREDICTED FINISH

EAST DIVISION	WEST DIVISION
1. Marshall	1. Rice
2. Middle Tennessee	2. Southern Miss
3. Western Kentucky	3. UTEP
4. Florida Atlantic	4. Louisiana Tech
5. Fla. International	5. Texas-San Antonio
6. Old Dominion	6. North Texas
7. Charlotte

NORTH TEXAS

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 9
The Mean Green had just one win last season and there's little reason to believe that this season will be much better. Seth Littrell, who had been North Carolina's offensive coordinator, is North Texas' new head coach.

OLD DOMINION

Offense: Starters returning - 9; Defense: Starters returning - 8
The Monarchs are scrapping their up-tempo offensive attack with a more measured approach, as head coach Bobby Wilder wants to run the ball to set up the pass. The offense will again need to put up points, because the defense won't be much improved over a unit that ranked 96th in FBS in 2015.

RICE

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 9
Coming off a season in which it scored its fewest points in four years, Rice faces having to replace QB Driphus Jackson with fifth-year senior QB Tyler Stehling. Of greater concern is a defense that allowed an average of more yards per play than any team in FBS last season.

SOUTHERN MISSISSIPPI

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 6
Although Southern Miss' top two playmakers return in QB Nick Mullens (38 TDs) and RB Ito Smith (1,128 rush yds), head coach Todd Monken departed for the NFL's Buccaneers and coordinator Chip Lindsey left for Arizona State. New defensive-minded coach Jay Hopson has to find a way to replace DE Michael Smith, LB Brian Anderson and CB Kalan Reed.

TEXAS-SAN ANTONIO

Offense: Starters returning - 5; Defense: Starters returning - 5
Frank Wilson is the new head coach, but the style of UTSA's play isn't expected to change. The Roadrunners live up to their name with a run-first offense that will be led by RB Jarveon Williams (1,042 yds).

UTEP

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 6
RB Aaron Jones is healthy after having missed most of last season with a foot injury, but the QB position is unsettled with Fresno State transfer Zack Greenlee expected to win the job. Tom Mason is UTEP's new defensive coordinator.

WESTERN KENTUCKY

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 4
WKU will have to replace QB Brandon Doughty after he led the team to a 12-win season. The new QB will likely be South Florida transfer Mike White, who will be surrounded by talent at the skill positions and have a veteran group in front of him on the offensive line.

AKRON

Offense: Starters returning - 4; Defense: Starters returning - 4
Although QB Thomas Woodson returns, Akron ranked 104th in FBS in total offense last season and has to replace all five starters among its offensive line. The defense finds itself in a similar predicament, having to overcome the losses of DTs Rodney Coe and Cody Grice and all three linebackers, including MAC Defensive Player of the Year Jatavis Brown.

BALL STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 5; Defense: Starters returning - 9
Expect Ball State to institute a no-huddle spread attack now that Mike Neu has taken over as head coach, but the Cardinals are going to have to make the transition with four starting offensive linemen having departed. And although new defensive coordinator Tim Daoust has most of his players back, it's from a team that ranked 121st in FBS in total defense last season.

BOWLING GREEN

Offense: Starters returning - 5; Defense: Starters returning - 6
Bowling Green was left to find a new head coach after Dino Barbers left to take over the Syracuse job. Mike Jinks takes over with the Falcons having lost star quarterback Matt Johnson and his top target, WR Roger Lewis, from an offense that ranked fourth in FBS in total offense a season ago.

BUFFALO

Offense: Starters returning - 3; Defense: Starters returning - 8
Buffalo's strength heading into the 2016 season is a defense that keeps its entire line intact along with star LB Brandon Berry and promising CB Boise Ross. The offense, however, will be young and inexperienced.

CENTRAL MICHIGAN

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 7
QB Cooper Rush (3,853 pass yds, 25 TDs) returns after a standout junior season in 2015, but he'll be without three starters from last year's offensive line and two of his top-three receiving targets. The defense returns seven of the team's top eight tacklers from a year ago.

EASTERN MICHIGAN

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 7
With Eastern Michigan having lost a 1,000-yard rusher in Darius Jackson, the hope is that an offensive line that returns all five starters can pave the way for RB Shaq Vann. The defense, however, will continue to be a hot mess.

KENT STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 10; Defense: Starters returning - 8
The Golden Flashes started four freshmen at offensive skill positions late last year (QB George Bollas, RB Raekwon James and WRs Antwan Dixon and Johnny Woods) for a unit that ranked ahead of only UCF in FBS in total offense. The strength of Kent State will be a defense led by star safety Nate Holley.

MIAMI-OHIO

Offense: Starters returning - 9; Defense: Starters returning - 6
Although nine starters return on offense, it's an offense that ranked 109th in FBS last season. The hope is that QB Billy Bahl gained enough experience while getting knocked around as a freshman in 2015 that he's able to take a step forward this season.

NORTHERN ILLINOIS

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 6
The Huskies will be led by QB Drew Hare, who started the first nine games of last season before a ruptured ACL ended his year. CB Shawun Lurry, who led FBS in interceptions in 2015 with nine, returns to a secondary that lost CB Paris Logan and safety Marlon Moore.

OHIO

Offense: Starters returning - 5; Defense: Starters returning - 6
Questions remain at the QB position going into the season, as Greg Windham battles for the job with fellow senior J.D. Sprague, who underwent off-season shoulder surgery. The Bobcats return eight of their top nine defensive linemen, including solid DEs Tarell Basham and Kurt Laseak.

TOLEDO

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 3
Toledo promoted offensive coordinator Jason Candle to head coach, and he will have a relatively experienced offensive squad this season with a great RB duo in Kareem Hunt (12 TD) and Terry Swanson. Success will depend on how well an overhauled defensive unit is able to perform.

WESTERN MICHIGAN

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 6
WR Corey Davis (1,436 yds, 12 TDs) returns after contemplating a jump to the NFL, and he'll once again have QB Zach Terrell (29 TD) to throw to him. With the Broncos getting to face both Northern Illinois and Toledo at home this season, they would seem to be the team to beat in the MAC West.

PREDICTED FINISH

MOUNTAIN DIVISION	WEST DIVISION
1. Air Force	1. San Diego State
2. Boise State	2. San Jose State
3. New Mexico	3. Nevada
4. Colorado State	4. Fresno State
5. Utah State	5. Hawaii
6. Wyoming	6. UNLV

AIR FORCE

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 4
 QB Austin Romine returns after having torn the ACL and MCL in his right knee midway through the fourth quarter of Air Force's second game of 2015, a 37-16 victory over San Jose State. The team's top five running backs also return, as does its top deep threat in WR Jalen Robinette. The leader of the defense is strong safety Weston Steelhammer, whose last name alone was enough to make him worth mentioning here.

BOISE STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 8
 QB Brett Rypien returns after having led the Mountain West in passing yards (3,353) as a freshman last season. In fact, Boise State loses only two starters from an offense that scored more than 50 points five times last season. The defense, however, lost its entire starting line, including pass-rushing beast LB Kamalei Correa, who left early for the NFL.

COLORADO STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 7
 Mike Bobo enters his second year as head coach after having led Colorado State to a winning record last season. Although QB Nick Stevens (2,679 pass yds, 21 TDs) returns for his junior year, the Rams will need to replace the production of star WR Rashard Higgins, who left early for the NFL.

FRESNO STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 6
 After going 3-9 and having little success on either side of the ball, Fresno State hired new coordinators on both offense and defense, with Eric Kiesau and Lorenzo Ward, respectively. They'll both have their work cut out for them with a roster that doesn't appear to be much better than last year's.

HAWAII

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 6
 Hawaii has yet another new head coach this season, and Nick Rolovich will have to make a decision at QB as to whether to start fifth-year senior Ikaika Woolsey or redshirt freshman Aaron Zwahlen. The defense, meanwhile, lacks true playmakers, especially up front.

NEVADA

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 5
 RB James Butler (1,345 yds) is back to be the focal point of Nevada's run-first offense. The defense will need to rebuild as all seven starters are gone from the defensive front seven.

NEW MEXICO

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 7
 After having reached its first bowl game since 2007, New Mexico returns its top two WRs in Dameon Gamblin and Delane Hart-Johnson—the hope is that a passing game led by run-first QB Lamar Jordan can help take some of the heat off the team's prolific running game. The defense will once again be led by star middle linebacker Dakota Cox.

SAN DIEGO STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 7
 The Aztecs tied a school record with 11 wins, and they seem poised to duplicate that feat in 2016. Head coach Rocky Long did a great job convincing players to stay another year, and RB Donnel Pumphrey (17 TDs) returns with sights set on breaking Marshall Faulk's school running records. CB Damontae Kazee (8 INT) also returns after having considered leaving for the draft.

SAN JOSE STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 9; Defense: Starters returning - 6
 The Spartans will look similar this season, as 15 starters return. The defense is the weaker of their two units, and new defensive coordinator Ron English will be tasked with turning it around. Look for the team to improve on its 6-7 record now that it has more experience than in recent seasons.

UNLV

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 5
 Second-year head coach Tony Sanchez continues to build the program from the ground up, and a great recruiting class is evidence that the Rebels are headed in the right direction. There's a good chance that true freshman dual-threat QB Armani Rogers could begin the season as the starter.

UTAH STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 9; Defense: Starters returning - 6
 Utah State will have to rely on its offense to win games, as the defense will be experiencing a rebuilding year. QB Kent Myers will lead an offense with plenty of experience. The defense is a different story, as four linebackers left to go to the draft and now the Aggies are left to rebuild.

WYOMING

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 5
 Wyoming remains in rebuilding mode under head coach Craig Bohl, coming off a season in which it won only two games. The star of this team is RB Brian Hill (1,631 yds). The strength of the defense is a backfield led by the safety tandem of Marcus Epps and Andrew Winguard.

PREDICTED FINISH

NORTH DIVISION	SOUTH DIVISION
1. Washington	1. USC
2. Stanford	2. UCLA
3. Oregon	3. Utah
4. Washington State	4. Arizona
5. California	5. Arizona State
6. Oregon State	6. Colorado

ARIZONA

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 9
Look for the Wildcats to try to bridge the gap between their talent on offense and defense—they ranked 18th in total offense last year but just 113th on defense. While the offense should be just as potent this season, new defensive coordinator Marcel Yates looks to turn around the defense.

ARIZONA STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 4; Defense: Starters returning - 6
Expect Arizona State to have another good running attack this season, as RB Demario Richard (1,098 yds) returns. The team's biggest uncertainty is at quarterback, where either sophomore Manny Wilkins or redshirt freshman Brady White will replace Mike Bercovici. The Sun Devils are also forced to replace their top two playmakers from a year ago in RB D.J. Foster and WR Devin Lucien.

CALIFORNIA

Offense: Starters returning - 4; Defense: Starters returning - 6
Cal is turning to Texas Tech transfer Davis Webb to fill the QB void created by the departure of NFL top overall pick Jared Goff. Of equal concern is the fact that all six of the Golden Bears' top pass-catchers from a year ago are also gone. The story isn't much different on a defensive unit that lost not only some key seniors, but also LB Hardy Nickerson, who announced this spring that he was leaving to join his dad at Illinois.

COLORADO

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 9
Colorado thought it had its next QB in Texas Tech transfer Davis Webb, who at the last minute decided to instead go to Cal. That leaves the Buffaloes to hope that QB Sefo Liufau can recover from his foot injury in time for the start of the 2016 season.

OREGON

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 5
The Ducks are taking another shot at an FCS transfer QB panning out, as QB Dakota Prukop will lead a team that went 9-4 last season. New defensive coordinator Brady Hoke looks to get more aggression out of his unit.

OREGON STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 6
The Beavers remain in a rebuilding effort after going 2-10 last season. They have found a QB in Utah State transfer Darell Gurrettson, and new offensive and defensive coordinators will look to turn around a team that ranked near the bottom on both sides of the ball in 2015.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Offense: Starters returning - 9; Defense: Starters returning - 6
Clay Helton is going into his first full season as head coach after having been named interim coach last season. He and QB Cody Kessler will be tested early when they face Alabama in the season opener. WR Juju Smith-Schuster (1,454 yds, 10 TD) returns to lead the receiving corps.

STANFORD

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 8
After having won the Rose Bowl last season, the Cardinal will need some help to get back to a 12-2 record. There will be a heated QB competition between Keller Chryst and Ryan Burns. RB Christian McCaffrey (2,019 rushing yds, 645 passing yds) return as a strong Heisman Trophy candidate.

UCLA

Offense: Starters returning - 4; Defense: Starters returning - 7
UCLA gets QB Josh Rosen (3,670 yds, 23 TD) back after a remarkable freshman season. Although the offense has only four returning starters, there is a significant amount of talent on the roster to fill the holes. The defense has to improve on stopping the run after a few horrible performances last year.

UTAH

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 7
If the Utes turn out to be a force again in the Pac-12, it will be because of the team's defense. All-conference DT Lowell Lotulelei returns as the anchor of the unit. The challenge will be on the offensive side of the ball, where both QB Travis Wilson and RB Devontae Booker must be replaced. Veteran Brandon Cox, JUCO transfer Troy Williams and freshman Tyler Huntley are the candidates to take over at quarterback.

WASHINGTON

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 7
The Huskies have a young and hungry QB in Jake Browning, who gained valuable experience after winning the starting job as a true freshman. The defense had a great season last year, only allowing 18.8 ppg. Look for Washington to emerge as the team to beat in the Pac-12 in 2016.

WASHINGTON STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 6
QB Luke Falk (4,500 yds, 38 TD) returns after a monster year last season. WR Gabe Marks also returns after having considered entering the NFL Draft. Given the way defensive coordinator Alex Grinch turned around his unit in his first season in 2015, Washington State has major sleeper appeal for 2016.

ALABAMA

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 5

As has become the tradition in Tuscaloosa, the defending national champs enter the season with a roster that many consider to be the nation's most talented. Despite losing four second-round picks to the NFL, the Crimson Tide defense looks to be equally as dominant this year, as a bevy of former five-star recruits will compete to join the likes of DE Jonathan Allen and S Eddie Jackson in the starting lineup. On offense, WR Calvin Ridley and LT Cam Robinson are among the best in the nation at their positions.

ARKANSAS

Offense: Starters returning - 5; Defense: Starters returning - 9

QB Austin Allen takes over an offense that lost its starting QB, RB, TE and three offensive linemen. The defense should improve because of their highly experienced group of returning starters.

AUBURN

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 5

The defense will be the focal point of the team with a new coordinator in Kevin Steele and a potentially dominant line that features Carl Lawson and Montravius Adams. Look for RB Jovon Robinson (639 yds) to be the focal point of the offense as Auburn's clear-cut top option in the running game.

FLORIDA

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 5

There are new offensive and defensive coordinators for the Gators, and the most pressing need is to improve the offense. If transfer QB Luke Del Rio can kickstart the offense, Florida could get back to a 10-win season.

GEORGIA

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 6

If RB Nick Chubb is back to full health after having suffered a season-ending knee injury last year, Georgia's running game is likely to be among the nation's best. And with Kirby Smart now the head coach, a scoring defense that ranked eighth in FBS in 2015 (16.9) is likely to be stout once again.

KENTUCKY

Offense: Starters returning - 9; Defense: Starters returning - 5

QB Drew Barker will be the starter after having won the job last season. New co-offensive coordinators from Cincinnati hope to instill a high-powered offense to help ease the pressure on the defensive side.

LSU

Offense: Starters returning - 9; Defense: Starters returning - 8

RB Leonard Fournette (1,953 yds, 22 TD) returns as a leading candidate to win the Heisman Trophy. LSU's 105th-ranked passing offense needs to improve with QB Brandon Harris back under center.

MISSISSIPPI

Offense: Starters returning - 5; Defense: Starters returning - 5

QB Chad Kelly (4,042 yds, 31 TD), returns after a monster season, but he'll have five new starters on his offensive line and will be without his top receiver with WR Laquon Treadwell having taken his All-American talent to the pros. DE Marquis Haynes (10 sacks) will lead the defense.

MISSISSIPPI STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 6

The loss of QB Dak Prescott will be difficult to overcome, and new QB Nick Fitzgerald will play behind a relatively inexperienced offensive line. Peter Sirmon takes over as defensive coordinator, becoming the third different coach in that role over the past three seasons.

MISSOURI

Offense: Starters returning - 5; Defense: Starters returning - 8

Barry Odom takes over as head coach of Missouri. Although QB Drew Lock will be back, the offense has a long way to go after having ranked 125th in the country last season. The defense should be a strength, but not to the point where it can be expected to overcome the dreadful offense.

SOUTH CAROLINA

Offense: Starters returning - 5; Defense: Starters returning - 8

Not only did South Carolina lose star WR Pharoh Cooper to the NFL, but the transfer of QB Connor Mitch leaves senior Perry Orth and freshmen Brandon McIlwain and Jake Bentley as the top candidates for the QB job. New head coach Bill Muschamp also lost LB Skai Moore, the team's leader in tackles in each of the past three seasons, to a season-ending neck injury.

TENNESSEE

Offense: Starters returning - 9; Defense: Starters returning - 8

Dual-threat QB Joshua Dobbs and downhill runner Jalen Hurd form a talented backfield, while DE Derek Barnett is a force off the edge for the defense. If Tennessee can win the types of close games it lost to Oklahoma and Alabama in 2015, the team could find itself in the hunt for a national playoff berth.

TEXAS A&M

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 7

Texas A&M's weakness last season was its offense. The Aggies hope that a duo of transfers at QB and RB will generate some spark. They also brought in new offensive coordinator Noel Mazzone to jump-start the offense.

VANDERBILT

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 7

Head coach Derek Mason has had the tough job of trying to rebuild a program while playing in the SEC. QB Kyle Shurmur will be returning along with RB Ralph Webb (1,152 yds).

APPALACHIAN STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 9

Appalachian State looks to build off its 11-win season last year, and the team is in a good position to do so with a group of returning RBs led by Marcus Cox (1,423 yds). The offense, which ranked 30th in FBS in 2015, also has QB Taylor Lamb (2,387 yds, 31 TD) returning. The defense should be improved with nine returning starters.

ARKANSAS STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 8

The Red Wolves offense will need to rebuild after having lost a number of key players, most notably QB Fredi Knighten and star RB Michael Gordon. Offensive coordinator Walt Bell also left, for Maryland, so it will be new OC Buster Faulkner, who most recently held the same position at Middle Tennessee, relying on dual-threat QB Justice Hansen, a JUCO transfer. The Red Wolves' strength is a defense that led FBS in defensive TDs and INTs. A potentially dominant front four will be led by DE Ja'Von Rolland-Jones, whose nine sacks last season were tops in the Sun Belt.

GEORGIA SOUTHERN

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 7

With Willie Fritz having left to coach Tulane after two winning seasons at the helm, 36-year-old Tyson Summers is the Eagles' new coach after having served as defensive coordinator at UCF in 2014 and Colorado State last season. He's expected to have seniors Kevin Ellison and Favian Upshaw split time at starting QB for a second straight season. Meanwhile, Matt Breida (17 TD) leads a talented RB group. The defense should be a force this season with the entire line returning along with most of the linebacking corps. The biggest question is the secondary, which will be inexperienced this year.

GEORGIA STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 9

The Panthers went 6-7 last season and reached the first bowl game in the program's history. The key to getting back to a bowl will be finding a suitable replacement for QB Nick Arbuckle among redshirt junior Conner Manning, redshirt sophomore Emiere Scaife and redshirt freshman Aaron Winchester. Senior WR Robert Davis (980 yds) returns to lead the group of skill players. Nine starters return on defense.

IDAHO

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 6

Last year's four-win season was actually an improvement for Idaho. QB Matt Linehan (16 TD) will return as the starter, and he will have WR Callen Hightower (749 yds) back as his top target. The defense has to get much better after having allowed a whopping 42.1 ppg last season.

LOUISIANA-LAFAYETTE

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 8

While ULL has RB Elijah McGuire (1,058 yds, 13 TD) back as the centerpiece of the offense, QB Jordan Davis will be under center after having made only one start last year. The defense will look to improve with eight returning starters after having ranked 89th in FBS (421 YPG) last season.

LOUISIANA-MONROE

Offense: Starters returning - 8; Defense: Starters returning - 4

Matt Viator takes over at head coach after having held the same position at McNeese State for the prior decade. The offense returns starting QB Garrett Smith (2,033 yds, 17 TD), who will have to improve after leading the nation's 115th-ranked offense last year. Mike Collins takes over as defensive coordinator, the same position he held at his alma mater from 1999-2002. Collins, who spent the last three seasons at Sam Houston State, had coordinated the defense for Viator at McNeese State from 2008-13.

NEW MEXICO STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 7

RB Larry Rose III (1,651 yds, 14 TD) is back as the focal point of the Aggies' offense. The uncertainty on offense revolves around the QB position, which will be filled by either Tyler Rodgers or transfer Tyler Matthews. Frank Spaziani takes over as coordinator of a defense that ranked 126th in ppg (45.0).

SOUTH ALABAMA

Offense: Starters returning - 6; Defense: Starters returning - 6

South Alabama has its dynamic RB duo of Tyreis Thomas and Xavier Johnson back this season. The team will need to run effectively, because it enters the season unsettled at QB. Kane Wommack takes over as defensive coordinator in hopes of turning around a team that gave up 416 YPG last season.

TEXAS STATE

Offense: Starters returning - 4; Defense: Starters returning - 5

New head coach Everett Withers replaces Dennis Franchione, who retired after having gone 39-43 over five seasons with Texas State. Withers, who spent the past two seasons at the helm of James Madison and whose one season prior to that as a head coach was 2011 at North Carolina (he went 7-6), has little to work with in what will be a rebuilding season.

TROY

Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 8

Neal Brown could lead his team to a bowl game in his second season as head coach. QB Brandon Silvers is primed to have a breakout year, and RB Jordan Chunn returns after having missed most of last season.

INDEPENDENTS*ARMYOffense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 9*

Although quarterbacks Ahmad Bradshaw and Chris Carter each do a solid job running Army's run-first attack, the Black Knights need to establish at least some semblance of a passing game a year after completing only 49 passes with nine interceptions on just 108 attempts. Senior LBs Andrew King and Jeremy Timph return as the heart of a defense that needs to be more opportunistic after having forced only 11 turnovers last season, including just four over the team's final eight games.

BRIGHAM YOUNG*Offense: Starters returning - 7; Defense: Starters returning - 8*

Bronco Mendenhall left after having won 99 games over 11 seasons at BYU without a losing record, which is even more impressive when considering that in 2005 he inherited a Cougars program coming off three straight losing seasons. Kalani Sitake takes over as the new head coach and former Heisman winner Ty Detmer is the new offensive coordinator.

MASSACHUSETTS*Offense: Starters returning - 5; Defense: Starters returning - 4*

UMass returns only nine starters for its first season as an FBS independent. Transfer QB Andrew Ford arrives after stops at Virginia Tech, where he originally signed and redshirted in 2014 as four-star recruit out of high school, and Lackawanna Community College last season, will be tasked with leading an inexperienced offense.

NOTRE DAME*Offense: Starters returning - 5; Defense: Starters returning - 5*

The Irish made it to a New Year's Day game last season without some of their best players, and now they welcome RB Tarean Folston and DT Jarron Jones back into the lineup. They'll need them, as the departures of stars WR Will Fuller and LB Jaylon Smith create voids that will be tough to fill. Notre Dame does return a pair of top-tier QBs in Deshone Kizer and Malik Zaire—most college teams don't have one QB as good as either one.
